The three stages of the loving, co-operative and powerful children.

BapDada is seeing all the loving, co-operative and powerful children. Among the loving children, there are those with different types of love. First are those who have become loving on being impressed by seeing the elevated life of others and also seeing the transformation of others. Second are those who become loving on having even a little glimpse of the experience of one or another virtue, whether it is happiness or peace. Third are the loving souls who experienced the company, that is, the gathering and also the support of the pure souls. Fourth are the souls who love God. All are loving, but their love is numberwise. A real loving soul is the one who becomes loving knowing the Father accurately.

In the same way, among the co-operative souls, there are also different types of co-operative soul. First are those who are co-operative according to the sanskars of bhakti. They are the ones who become co-operative with the attraction of thinking that these things here are good, that this is a good place, that these people have a good life, that they will receive fruit by doing something for a good place, that is, they become co-operative by using a little of their body, mind and wealth. Second are those who become co-operative on the basis of some attainment through imbibing knowledge and yoga. Third are those who belong to the one Father and none other. There is just the one Father, and just the one place for all attainments. The Father's task is my task. In this way, they consider this to be their Father, their home, their task, their elevated Godly task and are constantly co-operative. So there is a difference.

In the same way, there are also the powerful souls. In this too, there are those with different stages. On the basis of just the knowledge of "I am a soul who is an embodiment of power, I am a child of the Almighty Authority Father", they try to remain stable in a powerful stage. However, because it is just up to the level of knowing, all the time they have these points of knowledge in their awareness, at the time of having a powerful point, they become powerful for that short time, but as soon as they forget the point, they lose their power. The slightest influence of Maya makes them forget knowledge and makes them weak. Second are those who churn knowledge, speak about knowledge and relate powerful things to others, and because of receiving the fruit of service at that time, they even experience themselves to be powerful. However, that is only whilst they are thinking about it or speaking about it, not constantly. First is the stage through their thinking of it and second is the stage through their speaking about it. Third are those who are constantly powerful souls. They don't just think or speak about this, but they become embodiments of a master almighty authority. To become an embodiment means to become powerful. Their every step and every action automatically become powerful.

They are embodiments of awareness and this is why they constantly have a powerful stage. Powerful souls would constantly experience themselves to be combined with the Father, the Almighty Authority, and also constantly experience the hand of shrimat in the form of a canopy of protection. Powerful souls because of constantly having a right to the key of determination, would experience themselves to be masters of the treasures of success. Such souls constantly swing in the swing of all attainments. They constantly sing songs in their mind of their elevated fortune. Because of constantly having spiritual intoxication, they easily remain beyond the attraction of the old world. They don't have to labour. Every action and word of powerful souls automatically enable service to continue to take place. Because of being powerful, they constantly have the experience that success is guaranteed in self-transformation and world transformation. They do not have even the slightest thought of "What should I do?" "What will happen?" about any task. They constantly have the garland of success in their life: "I am victorious. I am part of the rosary of victory." They automatically and constantly have the firm faith: Victory is my birthright. Do you understand? Now ask yourself: Who am I? The powerful souls are in the minority. There is majority of the different varieties of loving and cooperative souls. So what will you now do? Become powerful. Experience the elevated happiness of the confluence age. Do you understand? Don't just become those who know about it, become those who attain it. Achcha.

Have you come to your home or to the Father's home? BapDada is pleased to see that you have arrived here. You are also very happy, are you not? Let this happiness remain constantly. Not just in Madhuban, but let it remain with you throughout the confluence age. The Father is also pleased when the children are happy. You have come from so far, far away having tolerated a great deal, but at least you have arrived here. You tolerated the heat and cold, the food and drink and arrived here. There were also dust storms. All of that happens in the old world anyway. Nevertheless, you received rest, did you not? Did you rest? If not three feet, you at least received two feet of space. Even so, you find your home, the home of the Bestower, sweet, do you not? This is a place that is better than the pilgrimages of the path of bhakti. You have come under the canopy of protection. You have come under the sustenance of love. To reach the elevated land of this yagya, to have a right to the prasad of the yagya, has such importance. One grain is equal to a lot of value. You know all of this, do you not? Those people are thirsty to receive even one grain of prasad, whereas here, you will receive a stomach-full of Brahma bhojan. Therefore, you are so fortunate. Keep this in importance of Brahma bhojan in your mind as you eat and even your mind will become great for all time.

Achcha, this time, the maximum number is from Punjab. Why have such a great number of people come running here? So many have never come before. You have all become conscious now! Even so, BapDada sees an elevated speciality in Punjab, of how they give a lot of importance to spiritual gatherings and amrit vela. They even come for amrit vela barefoot. BapDada sees the children of Punjab as those with the greatness knowing the importance of amrit vela. Punjab residents means those who are constantly coloured with the spiritual colour of the company. They are those who constantly stay in the company of the Truth. You are like that, are you not? Do all of those from Punjab become powerful at amrit vela and celebrate a meeting? Those of you from Punjab do not have laziness about amrit vela, do you? You don't nod off, do you? Therefore, always remember the speciality of Punjab. Achcha.

Those from the Eastern Zone have also come. What is the speciality of the East? (sunrise). The sun always rises there. Sun means the treasure of light. So now, those from the Eastern zone are master suns of knowledge. You are those who constantly dispel darkness and give light, are you not? You have this speciality, do you not? You are those who never enter the darkness of Maya. You have become master bestowers who dispel darkness, have you not? The sun is a bestower, is it not? So all of you have become master suns, that is, master bestowers, and remain busy in the task of giving light to the world, have you not? Maya too doesn't have time for those who remain busy, who never have time for anything. So what do those from the Eastern Zone think? Does Maya come in the Eastern Zone? If she does come, does she come to salute you or does she make you into a Mickey Mouse? Do you like the games of Mickey Mouse? The gaddi of the Eastern Zone is the father's gaddi. So that is the gaddi of the kingdom, is it not? Would those who have the throne of the kingdom be kings or Mickey Mouse? So, are all of you master suns of knowledge? The Sun of Knowledge also rose from there, did He not? He rose from the East. Do you understand your speciality? You are the elevated souls of the elevated gaddi where Baba came from, that is, of the place that has been blessed. No other zone has this speciality. Therefore, constantly use your speciality for world service. What speciality will you bring? Constantly master suns of knowledge. You are the master bestowers who constantly give light. Achcha. All of you have come to meet Baba. Constantly continue to celebrate the elevated meeting. A mela means to meet. Don't deprive yourself of the mela, of the meeting, for even a second. Make the experience of a constant yogi firm before you leave here. Achcha.

To the loving souls who constantly remain in love with the One Father; to the souls who are co-operative in God's task at every step; to the elevated souls who are constantly the embodiments of power; to the victorious children who constantly experience the rights of victory, BapDada's love, remembrance and namaste.

BapDada speaking to groups:

Constantly continue to progress with one faith and one Support. You constantly belong to the one Father and you constantly have to follow the shrimat of the one Father. Continue to move forward with this effort. Experience becoming an embodiment of elevated knowledge and a great yogi. Go into the depths. The deeper you go into the depths of knowledge, the more jewels of invaluable experiences you will attain. Become those with a concentrated intellect. Where there is concentration, there is the experience of all attainments. Don't go after temporary attainments. Have imperishable attainments. Don't become attracted to perishable things. Constantly consider yourselves to be masters of the treasures and go into the unlimited. Don't go into the limited. There is the difference of day and night between the pleasures of the unlimited and the pleasures of the attraction of the limited. Therefore, become sensible and do everything with understanding and make your present and your future elevated.

Blessing: May you be a master almighty authority and with the aeroplane of a clean mind and a pure intellect, travel to your sweet home in a second.

Scientists are trying to invent vehicles that have a fast speed, and they spend so much money on that. They spend so much time and energy in that. However, you have vehicles with such a fast speed that without spending anything, you just think about somewhere and arrive there. You have received the instrument of a pure mind and a divine intellect. With the aeroplane of a clean mind and a pure intellect, you can travel whenever you want and come back whenever you want. No one can stop one someone is a master almighty authority.

Slogan: Let your heart be constantly honest and you will continue to receive blessings from the Father, the Comforter of Hearts.
