

Obstacles As Opportunities

We, the Youth, navigate through many obstacles. Maybe we are not having sufficient knowledge, minimum education required, enough experience needed, a small capital to start a business, or enough courage to face situations coming on our way. Nevertheless keep going, overcome them and take on your stride!

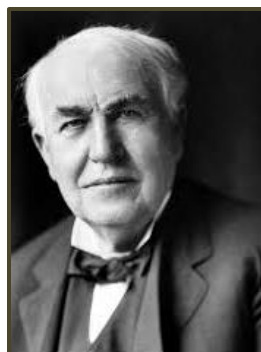

To cross a river, one takes a boat, a good swimmer swim across, someone ties up a rope between two trees then traverses it, and others assess the situation and opt for some other options. Likewise, we need to face our obstacles and rise above them. Believe in yourself, in your abilities, in your strength, in your courage!

Obstacles are to test our capacities, to sharpen our skills, to give us new experiences, to stretch our limits, to bring out the best of us, to force us to think differently for finding solutions thus developing our thinking skills. So welcome them with your arms open and give them a big hug because they are unlocking doors of opportunity.

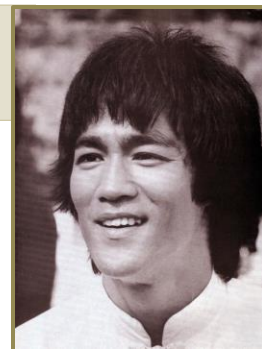

Opportunity knocks

To hell with circumstances; I create opportunities.

Mistakes are always forgivable, if one has the courage to admit them.

- Bruce Lee

The reasons a lot of people do not recognize opportunity is because it usually goes around wearing overalls looking like hard work.

Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and looks like work.

-Thomas A. Edison

Game Of Football

Football World Cup FIFA 2014,
Things for You and Me

Goal!!!... Goal!!!... Goal!!!... Goal!!!... Goal!.....

Football mania is going to overtake the Cricket mania, but it is not that easy, at least for India. In India, more people watch cricket than football. Cricket viewers used to be 120 million, but this time FIFA world cup Indian viewers in TV can attract 100 million.

We are the players, in the game of life playing on the big field Earth. Before starting the game read the instructions carefully.

Goal is more important than a game just well played:

Ultimately goal counts, team may have played well with 80% possession of ball but the team that could convert a chance into goals is the ultimate winner. In life, just leading a good life or performing well is not enough, do not forget your goal.

Team matters. Miss the rhythm and you miss the game:

Football is a matter of teamwork; individually you may be the best, ultimately team matters. Team is having its own rhythm. If there is proper rhythm, even the weakest team is most powerful, but without proper rhythm, the strongest team also surrenders. Synchronisation and synergy matter, team should act as complement of each other not as the supplement of each other. There should be bonding and understanding among the teammates.

Time respect "Present" not past Champions:

Games do not have special treatment for the champions. However reputed or the best your team may be, championship was history. A team has to prove then and there. Football World Cup FIFA 2010 champion, Spain suffered two consecutive defeat and was almost out. One may be the best, but one will be judged by the performance of the present. Let us see who will be the champion in this world cup 2014, it is all about passion, confidence and rhythm.

My success depends on my present hard work and passion along with the asset of good deeds of the past.

An Individual can drive the passion of a whole team:

Pele and Maradona are considered to be the gods of football, the kind of techniques, the efforts and the tolerance they had been exhibiting during their career is spectacular. Leadership matters, leading are an important factor in game. During the game, the captain will not get special treatment or respect. The Captain can lead the team through his own performance not through instructions, commands and control. During the game, command and communications are spontaneous. In a game like football, the organisational structure is flat as all team members of the game are considered to be equal and equally important. An important lesson to learn for the corporate.

Red Card and Yellow Card:

There are referees to watch your action in the field, in the name of game, freedom and fun you cannot foul. If game is guided by rules and regulations, why not in life. It is the coded principles, policy and rules that are making the game free, fair and amusing. So, follow the rules of life to entertain the self and the others. In the name of freedom, do not be careless.

Just Goal is not everything:

Just scoring a goal is not important; one should score it fairly and follow the rules of the game. Many times, the team passes the ball into goal post but the referee does not acknowledge it as goal. It is not just a matter of reaching the target, but one should not forget the Referee.

Kochi to host Young Entrepreneurs Summit
Aiming at establishing Kerala as an entrepreneurial state, the Young Entrepreneurs Summit (YES) will be held in Kochi on September 12, 2014. About 2,000 entrepreneurs are expected to attend.

Quick Link to Future: The days are coming closer when we will have the environment friendly clean technology. The scientific development should not lead to devastation of environment. In Golden age, there will be true harmony between nature and mankind. A paradise where gods and goddess will lead a comfortable and happy life but not at the cost of environment.

Quick link to Soul: Good news! If we can charge a smartphone in 30 seconds, similarly can we think of charging our mind in 30 seconds? Meditation recharges the power of the soul, but just recharging is not enough, duration matters. With the refinement of our thought process, we can charge our mental strength quickly.

Master Degree in Relationship Management

There was a time when doctors in nuclear physics or in computer science were rare. In absence of scientific knowledge, people were in obscurity though working hard. We are able to witness every impossible getting possible through knowledge. We have discovered or invented technology and we see its wonder as it has simplified the problems of life. Education is empowering and enabling millions to have smooth and easy life. The whole society is getting transformed. Two hundred years ago, no one could dream of flying or talking without wire connectivity, it is all about human endeavour and effort.

Relationship is natural. Since birth, we have been tied with varieties of relationships. It starts with our parents then family members, friends, ending up with grand children. Each and every relationship is having its own sanctity, sweetness, price, accountabilities and responsibilities. It is as natural as water, air and the earth. With time, it has become difficult to understand why managing relationship is getting tougher. Is there any science behind relationship? Is there any quick solution or formulae to maintain relationship? Are we missing some of the fundamentals of our life? There should be an easy solution to all problems relating to relationship. There are number of subjects and studies relating to organisational behaviour, and family relationships, still divisions and divorces in family life are rising at alarming rate even in the rural areas.

We are trying to avoid or escape in the name of modernisation and westernisation.

Westernisation, urbanisation and materialism, I did not see anything wrong in them but in the name of freedom and independence, we have become insensitive to the emotion of a person. The aspiration for taste of freedom is good but the new generation is absolutely confused about the code of conduct, cultural values and family ethics.

The day is not far when the Universities will award degree for the "Relationship Management" course. We are building bridges, robots, rockets, etc. Creating a relation is getting much easier than earlier through various social Medias but sustaining or maintaining them for lifelong is one of the most impossible tasks. Personality, property, physis, popularity, prosperity, position and power do not last forever. If relationship is on the basis of those factors or builds out of body consciousness then it makes it fragile, feeble and delicate. One of the major factors of the growing stress in the present world is the uncertain relation.

If our education, understandings and higher studies do not help us to understand the simplest thing - human relation then whole earning and education seem to be meaningless.

A selfless and immortal relationship has become the rarest thing on this earth and the most precious too. Learn the art or theory of relationship building. Here the word "building" means creating and sustaining immortal relations. I will advise you to first start building good relationship with the self through self-introspection, understanding and analysis then with the world. Do not be in haste in creating relations. Multiplying relations seems to be fun but at the end will erode your mental, physical and monetary resource, rather than maintaining or satisfying the existing.

Vision driven by Core Ideology

Vision for the self and the Universe in Youth Age

Youth life should be driven by a purpose and values. The core values and core purpose are the guiding compass to help one navigate in the river of life. Youth maintaining the core ideology is indomitable. Framing a core ideology of life is the base for building the future. A research paper written by James and Jerry on "Building Vision" says core competency is altogether different from the core values. Core competency can keep on changing with time but not the core ideology.

Core competency can keep on changing with time but not the core ideology. It is the foundation of core ideology, which makes one indomitable and invincible as it is built with understanding, learning, and knowledge along with constant positive reinforcement. Bhagat Singh was carrying this core ideology in him "dying for the nation with honor and happiness". Subash Chandra Bose fought till his last breath, he had cleared ICS exam in those days, but he renounced this post for Bharat Mata. Balgangadhar Tilak suffered, was humiliated and was sent to jail number of times, but he did not compromise with the "voice of truth". They become our great heroes.

Youth must be thinking What is my core ideology???

Core ideology consist of two things: core values and core purpose. Write down your core ideology and core purpose of living, it should be inspiring to you and beneficial to the whole Universe.
